THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1871. | VOLUME III--NUMBER 181

Evening Edition.

Atlanta, Ga., January 18, 1871.

☞ For interesting reading matter, see fourth page.

☞ The Americus Republican calls the State Road lease a fraudulent and nefarious transaction.

☞ The Cartersville Express approves the Brown Co. lease, but don't think its railroad security is right.

☞ The Chronicle and Sentinel, of Augusta, calls the State Road lease a bare-faced outrage upon the people's rights.

☞ The Sandersville Georgian says that Joe Brown's letter about the State Road lease is conclusive beyond doubt, and ends with, "guess Governor Brown will keep the road."

☞ The Federal Union rather prefers the Brown Co. to the Seago-Blodgett Co., and thinks the showing is in favor of the Brown Co. But it fears that company will be master of Georgia.

More Impeachment Demanded.

The Raleigh Sentinel demands the impeachment of Chief Justice Pearson, whom it regards, and very justly too, as bad as Holden, and a dishonor to the Judiciary.

Glynn County Representative.

James Houston, white, is contesting the claim of the negro James Blue, to a seat in the next Legislature. Blue received a small majority over Houston, but it is claimed by the latter that a large number of illegal votes was polled for Blue by negroes from other counties.

☞ We believe that the contest now waging between the rival railroad companies in Georgia will result in a public benefit. Let the woods be shelled, and if any honest prisoners are caught among the scalawag and carpet-bag speculators, the benefit of clergy might be expected; but every spy and guerilla who has schemed to rob the tax-payers of the State should be hung or be put to the sword.—Columbus Sun.

☞ The Chattanooga Times has interviewed Stanton, the Alabama Railroad man who declined to pay interest on his bonds, a short time ago. He says he has raised the money, and the road will be completed in three months. He said that he had been railroading for twenty-eight years, and never knew a railroad three hundred miles long to be built that paid interest promptly until it was finished. He had two millions of bonds, and did not mean to sell until he could get a good price for them.

Thus ends this embroglio. The conjecture is verified that Stanton's object in refusing to pay interest was to have the road sold and buy it in for little or nothing. Governor Lindsay's acumen penetrated and his sagacity thwarted the plot and saved the State the loss.

☞ Savannah is having a war between the boys of the suburbs and those of the interior of the city; the former, roughs; the latter, gentlemen's sons.

The writer remembers twenty years ago that the same warfare existed. The Advertiser says some of the fights are very bloody. In the old time they used to be bloody, too. The suburb chaps were generally rag-tag and bob-tail, and were usually the aggressors. They would make raids on the decent young boys that played in the interior squares of the city. The issue was almost universally in favor of the genteel lads. Blood always told. Generally less strong and numerous than the black-guards, they had more bottom and pluck. They would not yield, though whipped, while the bullies yielded without being whipped often.

Some very thrilling recollections of those days recur to the writer's mind.

Akerman Snubbed.

The Washington Patriot, of Friday, says: "Now that Mr. Akerman has resumed his place as Attorney-General, and left the laurels, which he promised to bring back, at home in other hands, his political friends, who exalted his pretended merits so immeasurably, and who gave the world such strong assurances of what he would do, begin to cold shoulder him most unceremoniously. It is no secret that his reception at the White House was far from cordial, but that was sought to be explained away. Since then the Radical papers have been rather outspoken upon this defeat in Georgia, and now the Philadelphia Press does not conceal its discontent, but parades the vote for Congress in Mr. Akerman's own county: 'Corker, Democrat, 962; Beard, Republican, 139,' with the mild suggestion, that the influence of the Attorney General is not so manifest as it should be, and that he has purchased another residence since the election. It is time for Mr. Akerman to pack his trunks."

MARIETTA, January 17, 1871.

Editor Constitution: In your paper of this morning, you say in your editorial column, that if you "have been correctly informed, the project of building a road from Chattanooga, in Tennessee, to Atlanta, in Georgia, originated with the Hon. A. H. Chappell, now of the City of Columbus." I have not been so informed. While Mr. Chappell, clarum et venerabile nomen, was an ardent friend of the enterprise and rendered very efficient service in carrying it out, I have been told that the "project" originated with the late Dr. Thomas Foster, then of Taliaferro county.

I have been further told, that it was mainly owing to the powerful influence and effect of the speech of the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, then (in 1836) a member of the Georgia House of Representatives from Taliaferro, that the measure for building the road passed the General Assembly; and I have heard Mr. Stephens say that many of the suggestions made, and much of the data furnished by Dr. Foster were of great use to him in the speech which so largely contributed to convince the reason of the Legislature of the utility and importance of constructing the road at the State's expense.

I would not detract anything from the well-earned fame of Mr. Chappell, or any of his noble compeers. Posterity will owe them a debt of gratitude which can never be fully discharged. But we must be just to all—the dead as well as the living; and, as the friend of historic truth, as I understand it, ask you to publish this note, begging meanwhile to assure you that, if my impressions in the premises be erroneous, no one will more cheerfully acknowledge correction than

CIVIS.

State Road Debts.

Blodgett is given as authority for the statement that the State Road owes six hundred thousand dollars. It thus appears that the road was not only robbed of all it made last year, but was run over a half million in debt, and needs another half a million for repairs. Who will say that Bullock and Blodgett have not been costly customers to the tax payers of Georgia? And what a spectacle have we in the recent bids for the work! This same man Blodgett, who, as an officer of the State, thus presents the road to the world as bankrupt and worthless, actually offers, as a private individual, to become a member of a company to lease it at a rental of $36,500 per month! If the Blodgett company can make it pay expenses, $36,500 per month rent, and a clear profit besides, we would be glad to have Blodgett, Superintendent, explain how it happened that he had supreme management of the work for a year of unwonted business and prosperity, and not only wore out the road and paid nothing, but actually ran it six hundred thousand dollars in debt!—Savannah Republican.

THE STATE ROAD LEASE.

At last THE CONSTITUTION has given us the facts and papers connected with this transaction, and the most we can make out of the matter without a peep behind the curtain, is the success of a powerful combination of brains, enterprise and money, over weak competition and bogus adventure.

That the price fixed in the lease—$25,000 per month—is too low, is so patent that none doubt it; but even that is infinitely preferable to placing the road in the hands of such men as Blodgett, Seago and Dobins—the one a notorious thief, with no railroad capacity but to pocket the receipts, and the other two just a little too narrow-minded to comprehend the vastness of such an enterprise, and too stingy to develope advantageously to any interest.

We commence to-day the publication of the voluminous record, and shall place it all before our readers, in our next and succeeding issues. Gov. Brown's letter is a strong document, and we present it first as the opening argument in the case. If what he says in reference to the Seago-Blodgett-Dobbins bid be true, it will be difficult to sustain the charge of fraud in letting the road to the Brown-Cameron Company.

However, Mr. Dobbin essays the task, and his letter will appear in its turn.

We regarded the bill for the lease of the road, when it was before the Legislature, as a monstrous scheme of robbery, and opposed it in the lobby. We see no reason yet to change our opinion. Hence we are not prepared to endorse anything connected with the great wrong. We shall, nevertheless, give the matter a fair and unprejudiced investigation, and then pronounce in accordance with our convictions.—Albany News.

Edwin Booth's Richelieu.

From all accounts it would appear that the favorite tragedian of America is destined to achieve as much distinction in his rendition of Richelieu as he did in Hamlet several years ago. After a brief absence from the metropolis, Booth appeared last Monday night, in New York, before one of the most critical and intellectual audiences that ever tried the nerves or tested the powers of any actor. The papers of the following day were full of the occasion and its incidents, and some of the criticisms were really very fine. The magnificence of the costly scenery; the completeness of all the appointments, and the scrupulous historical accuracy displayed in the costume of the actors, all made a deep impression.

But all this glare and glitter was subordinated to the grand central figure, Richelieu, the statesman, soldier and priest. Booth is said to have represented this character in a manner worthy of his genius, and far surpassing anything of the kind that was ever before seen on the American stage. He not only acted Richelieu, but looked Richelieu. A critic, who was present, declared that Booth's features resembled closely the portraits extant of the Cardinal, even to the thin, prominent nose, the firmly-cut lips, and the high but not very broad forehead.

It now seems to be settled that Booth has not yet reached the maturity of his powers. Every season some new evidence of genius startles his admirers, and it is said that his summer vacations are seasons of untiring secret labor. It is very singular that men who deal with realities cannot imitate the patience and perseverance of the actor for whom they pretend to feel so much contempt.

☞ A short time ago a party of Congressmen were conversing together in Washington, and a prominent western Democrat inquired of Logan—"Well, General, have you called at the White House since your arrival?"

To which the would-be Senator replied, in his characteristic language:

"Yes; and by God, don't you think they 'Mistered' me up there?"

"Why, how was that?"

"The don't know me up there, any more. Even the black thief who opened the door, and who has known me for ten years, inquired, 'What's the name, sir?' That was done by orders, for he has announced me scores of times before, and never required my name. And when I saw the President, he extended his hand with, 'How do you do, "Mr." Logan?' Judge Dent was there, and he called me 'Mr.' Logan; and that lacquey, Gen. Dent, called me 'Mr.' Logan. But d—n them, I snubbed them as well. I responded, 'Quite well, I thank you, "Mr." Grant; glad to see you, "Mr. Dent; and I 'mistered' everybody about the place, including the whole Dent family."—Wabash Valley Times.

MORE REVELATION.—Ex-Governor Austin Blair, of Michigan, a Radical member of the United States House of Representatives, has had a letter of his unearthed. Among other charming things we find the following criticism of his party, as a whole:

"They are a lot of corrupt scoundrels, and will keep no agreement, except such as put money in their pockets.

"You say, what are we coming to? This is a question I have revolved a good deal in my own mind, and I cannot find a very satisfactory answer, but I think there is but one remedy, and that is defeat. Whenever the people learn the truth they will apply the wholesome corrective."

ROAD STEAMERS.—The application of steam to the propulsion of vehicles upon common roads is constantly extending and gaining in favor. Mr. Thomson, of Edinburgh, Scotland, the inventor of the road steamer, which bears his name, has found his facilities too limited to meet his orders, and has consequently licensed other manufacturers to meet these engines. A house in New York is also manufacturing these steamers for the American market. In an experimental trial of one of these machines built for the Woolwich Arsenal in England, it drew two heavily loaded vehicles up a grade of one in eight, with steam at 120 lbs., the road being quite slippery with mud. Tried on a level field, in parts of which the wheels sank three inches, in accomplished a mile in seven minutes.

SIGNS OF RAINFALL.—Mr. Robert Scott, an English meteorologist, asserts that, when the clouds lie low on the hills, it is a sign of rain; as this indicates that the air is saturated with moisture. Very bright, clear weather, making the hills appear clearly visible, is, he says, also an indication of approaching rainfall; for when the air is dry, it holds in suspension dust, which makes the distant landscape hazy. As vapor condenses, it first attaches itself to the particles of dust, and by making them heavier, precipitates them to the earth. A fine starlight night, in otherwise rainy weather, is a sign that it will probably commence raining again the next morning.

☞ An elderly gentleman, returning home on Sunday, began to extol the merits of the sermon to his son. The following short dialogue tells the story:

"I have heard, Frank," said the old gentleman, "one of the most delightful sermons ever delivered before a Christian society. It carried me to the gates of Heaven."

"Well, I think," replied Frank, "you'd better have dodged in, for you will never have such another chance."

☞ The Courier-Journal says: The Radical Congressman, John A. Wimpy, of Georgia, who sent $250 to Morgan & Co., of New York, for $1,500 in counterfeit money, and received a box of sawdust in return, was defeated for re-election by W. P. Price. What with this Price and the price he had to pay for the box of sawdust, the poor devil must be pretty well ruined.

☞ The report that the French intended to introduce George Francis Train to Bismarck, with the deliberate purpose of having the Chancellor talked to death, is now declared to have no foundation. The French may have had some such design; but they knew, if they carried it out, that they could never afterward lay any claim to civilized warfare.

EFFECT OF ALCOHOL ON THE HUMAN SYSTEM.—Experiments recently made by Dr. Parkes and Dr. Wallowitz, and published in the proceedings of the Royal Society, show conclusively that alcohol is not necessary to the human system, and that the effects produced by it are likely to lead to alterations in the circulation and degeneration of tissues.

☞ At the sale of effects of the old Exchange Bank of Virginia, in Richmond, last week, $5,000,000 in Confederate bonds brought $70; $1,000,000 in Confederate notes sold for $30, and $12,500 in Virginia and North Carolina bonds, issued during the war, brought $30.

☞ It is no longer a mystery why the Erie Railway pays no dividends that it can avoid. It seems that it had in employ, in 1868, no fewer than forty lawyers, and its litigations during that time cost it in counsel fees alone more than a third of a million of dollars.

☞ The man who first nominated Grant for the Presidency, is now editing a Democratic paper in Georgia and it will require him to spend a long life in this good work to atone for that one criminal absurdity.—Con-

The entire army is moving. Faidherbe has been heavily reinforced and has commenced a series of monœuvres, from which great results are expected.

Nine car loads of emigrants came up on the Georgia Railroad this morning. A large portion of the emigrants were colored. We learn that a number of colored persons got on at Madison and other towns on the line of the road.

Supreme Court of Georgia.

JANUARY TERM, 1871.—MORNING SESSION.

John L. Conley, Esq., of Atlanta, was admitted to this bar.

Upon motion of B. Hill, mandamus nisi issued requiring the Clerk of Crawford county to show cause why he had not sent up to this Court, the record of B. A. Thornton vs. Taylor Gibson, from said county.

By consent of counsel, Nos. 8 and 10 Southwestern Circuit, viz: John D. Snelling vs. Wm. M. Bryce & Co., and A. W. Green vs. the Southern Express Company were postponed to the trial of that Circuit.

H. P. Bell, Esq., suggested admonition of the record in Joseph D. Murphy vs. William A. Griggs, from Habersham. There being a question of practice involved, the court postponed considering the suggestion till the cause is reached in its order.

Upon motion of A. W. Hammond & Son, for defendants in error, the case of L. C. Wells, et al., vs. The Mayor and Council of Atlanta, et al., injunction, from Fulton, was set down for ten o'clock, A. M., next Wednesday.

No. 2, Blue Ridge Circuit, was called. It is Samuel Montgomery, administrator, vs. Sarah Walker, a proceeding against intruder, from Gilmer. Wier, Boyd, Thos. F. Greer, and M. L. Smith for plaintiff in error. H. P. Bell for defendant.

A motion was made to dismiss it because the bill of exceptions was served only by leaving a copy at defendant's place of abode, and that was done by the Sheriff instead of the party. The motion was overruled on both grounds, Warner, J., dissenting upon the ground that service should be personal.

The cause was then argued.

No. 3 is John Palmer vs. F. M. Bowman. Motion for new trial, from Dawson Supreme Court. L. C. Johnson and H. P. Bell for plaintiff. Geo. D. Rice for defendant. It was withdrawn.

No. 4 was entered settled. It is Doe ex. dem. Sarah Crosby vs. Roe cas. ejector and Ja. Ball et al. tenants. Ejectment from Miltot. Clements & Roberts, H. P. Bell for plaintiff. Lester & Thomson for defendant.

No. 5 is Nathan H. Hand, et. al., vs. Thos. C. A Dexter, et. al. Demurrer to bill from Lumpkin. George D. Rice, Jr., plaintiff in error Weir Boyd and John A. Wimpy, for defendant.

Pending the reading of the record, Court adjourned till 3 o'clock P. M.

GEORGE BANCROFT.—The European war alone has saved Mr. Bancroft from being recalled. In fact, the mission was offered to Mr. Grinnell of New York, and another person, with the knowledge of Mr. Bancroft. But, although fully aware of this slight, he had the philosophy to pocket the salary and the affront together, and is willing to serve the Republic in the forbearing spirit of Mr. Motley, until positively ordered to come home. The President will make a nomination for Berlin as soon as the present complications may justify a change at that post. Then there will be a pedagogue less in the diplomacy.—Washington Patriot.

☞ What took Greeley to the White House after the result of the Georgia election was known, has leaked out. Grant invited him over to have a good hard swear together. The gas in the Presidential Mansion burned blue that night, if never before.

☞ The extent of the various avenues and mazes of the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky are estimated at over 150 miles. Although the distance is great, a measurement probably would show that this estimate is excessive.

☞ Some diabolical villain in Chicago has expatriated himself by knocking down Orville Grant, the brother of the Government. Such blows struck at on the branches of Republican Liberty should not be tolerated.

☞ James Fitzpatrick, the "blobber"-mouthed Radical who "riprisints" the county of Bibb in the Legislature, has been bound over in the sum of $3,000 to answer the charge of inciting a riot.

☞ Coal mines near Constantinople, which were worked seventy years ago, as described in old books of travel, and then abandoned, are about to be worked again, in order to supply coal to the Turkish artillery factories.

☞ There have been many definitions of a gentleman, but the prettiest is that given by a young lady: "A gentleman," says she, "is a human being combining a woman's tenderness with a man's courage."

☞ A New Hampshire man is said to have sold his right to a "hair restorer" for $100,000, after making a small fortune by its manufacture.

☞ The matrimonial felicity of Mr. Hall, in St. Louis, has been somewhat marred by a playful habit Mrs. H. has of heaving flatirons at him. Mr. H. wants a divorce.

SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO COMPANY.

CAPITAL $1,000,000.

WE would beg to call the attention of planters to the Soluble Pacific Guano, which we have been selling in this market for the past five years, and that by its excellence it has acquired a reputation unsurpassed by any Fertilizer sold in this or any other market. The reputation and high standing of the PACIFIC GUANO COMPANY is sufficient guarantee that the high character of this Fertilizer will be maintained. We have for distribution, a large number of testimonials from planters, showing a profit of from 100 to 300 per cent. on the investment the past season. With such an increase, we cannot see how any planter can be so averse to using it, even at the low price of cotton. We have facilities for handling largely the coming season and would suggest to planters and dealers the propriety of ordering early, as freights will be scarce early in the season. DEFIES REFUTATION

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.

I. W. AVERY, Editor.

Morning Edition.

Atlanta, Georgia, January 19, 1871.

☞ A prominent Ohio lawyer and politician of Urbana, has gone crazy.

☞ The Supreme Court of California has decided against the admissibility of Chinese evidence in the courts of that State. This runs directly against the fourteenth amendment.

☞ Another Mississippi River calamity has occurred. The steamer T. L. McGill was burned on the night of the 14th, at Shoo Fly Bar. Sixty out of ninety-five persons were lost. Many heart-rending scenes took place. A husband and wife sank in each others arms. The boat and cargo were a total loss.

☞ East Tennessee is infested with brigands. A Mr. George Susong, of Jefferson county, had a thrilling escape. He found under his bed a murdered man. Placing the body in bed, he stood behind the door, and as the murderers stole to the bed at midnight, he slipped out and escaped. Four of the villains have been taken.

Tennessee.

Tennessee produced last year 6,750,000 bushels of wheat, averaging 8½ bushels to the acre; 3,500,000 bushels of oats, or 16 1-7 bushels to the acre; 47,500,000 bushels of corn, or 20 bushels to the acre; 35,000,000 pounds of tobacco, or 540 pounds to the acre; 10,000,000 pounds of butter; 1,000,000 bushels of potatoes, or 50 bushels to the acre.

She has 6,795,333 acres of improved land and 13,873,828 acres unimproved.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

Radical Congressmen give up reconstruction as a bad job. Reconstruct the late rebel States as they will, they cannot be depended upon, politically. Southern white Republicans are "mighty uncertain," and the negroes don't vote the straight ticket. A sorrowful fact is at last forced upon the leaders, that in 1872, the Southern electoral vote will be almost unanimously Democratic. Republicanism at the South was smothered by too much reconstruction.

Mr. Hill.

In another column will be found a report of an interview with Mr. Hill. It will be found interesting. We are frank to confess that it settles in Mr. Hill's favor the question of his courting the Radicals. We did not think that the affidavits of Mr. McGregor covered the ground. They were recitals of the impressions of persons, and mere hearsay. They were testimony that would not pass in court. Mr. Hill now gives the substance of his letter, and our correspondent saw the original, which tallies with the remembrance of Mr. Hill.

The Unitarians.

The Unitarians have 338 societies in this country, of which 174 are in Massachusetts, and 26 are in Boston. The earliest were established in 1630. There are 76 societies without ministers, as they are critical and hard to please. There are 400 ministers, of which 33 are D. D's. They have gained 35 societies in four years.

In Great Britain and Ireland there are 395 Unitarian Societies, with 311 ministers, and Hungary has 106 congregations, with 50,000 worshipers, and there are three societies in Australia.

The Restoration of Napoleon.

A restoration of the Regency and old Legislative Assembly are much talked about. It is said the restoration contemplates a close alliance with Prussia. Bismarck has recently been approached on the subject, but entirely refuses to commit himself to restoration.

He says: "When Paris falls, we shall find a de facto Government. If it is willing to accept peace and elect a constitutional government to confirm the terms, we will not interfere with the internal affairs of France. If, on the other hand, the temporary government is inclined wickedly to prolong this wicked war, we will be willing to treat with the Empire, which has not yet been constitutionally set aside."

☞ "Gail Hamilton" (Miss Abigail Dodge) has visited Washington, and a reporter, who interviewed, or perhaps only viewed her, says: "She is rather small, has a round, fresh and happy-looking face, blue eyes, and brown hair, worn short, and sort of curled or frizzled. She is animated in conversation, talks as she writes, is witty, fond of jokes, and must be jolly to have around. She doesn't look a bit pedantic or bluestockingfied, and judging from her face, she could pass nicely for twenty-five years old."

But Gail or Abigail is not sound on matrimony. She believes in a wife feeding her husband on iron filings, and never caressing him save after a months courting. This in busy times would never do.

The State Bonds.

We showed the other morning that an enormous quantity of bonds had been issued by Governor Bullock, and no report made to the State Treasurer in accordance with the law. And that the Treasurer had called on the financial agent of the State in New York, Henry Clews & Co., for information about these bonds in order to enable him to make his annual report. We further showed that Mr. Clews refused to give the information by Governor Bullock's instruction.

The illegality of failing to report these bonds to the Treasurer and the impropriety of refusing him official information of the status of the bonds, need no proof at our hands. The appearance of wrong is palpable from these unlawful features of the transaction.

The Governor's organ yesterday morning jumps into the ring, and quotes the following section of the law authorizing the issue of the bonds, to show that the Treasurer had nothing to do with the bonds:

Section 8. Be it further enacted, That said bonds shall be signed by his Excellency the Governor, and countersigned by the Comptroller General, and shall by the Comptroller General be registered in a book to be kept for that purpose, and the amount so issued reported also for the Treasurer's office.

The italics in this section will show that the Treasurer did have something to do with these bonds. The amount issued was, by law, to be reported for record in the Treasurers office. And though the Governor has been issuing bonds since October, never until yesterday, was any report of them made to the Treasurer.

We publish to-day the letter giving the information to the Treasurer:

COMPTROLLER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, GA., Jan. 18, 1870.

Hon. N. L. Angier, State Treasurer—SIR: In accordance with section 3d of the Act approved September 15th, 1870, entitled "An Act to authorize the issue of bonds of this State whereby to redeem all bonds and coupons thereon, now due or falling due, and for other purposes therein mentioned," I hereby inform you that I have approved bonds of this State, prepared under and by authority of said Act, from number one to two thousand, inclusive, for one thousand dollars each, and amounting in the aggregate to two million dollars, said bonds bearing date, October 1st, eighteen hundred and seventy (1870), and which I report to you for record in the Treasurer's office, in accordance with the said 3d section of the Act aforesaid.

Respectfully, MADISON BELL,
Comptroller General.

It is very remarkable that, on the 29th of December, 1870, a little over two weeks ago, the Comptroller General wrote the following letter to the Treasurer, seeking the same information that the Treasurer sought from Mr. Clews, to make out his own report:

COMPTROLLER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 29, 1870.

N. L. Angier, Treasurer—SIR: Being required by law to show in my annual report a statement of the condition of the public debt of the State, the amount of interest paid, and the fund from which paid, I will thank you for, and have to request of you, a detailed statement of said indebtedness, etc, that I may be enabled to comply with the law, and give to the public a satisfactory statement of the same. I addressed a letter to the Governor on yesterday, asking of him a similar statement of the public debt, which reply, with your own, I desire to embody in the report.

Respectfully, MADISON BELL,
Comptroller General.

It would appear from this, that not only had the Governor failed to furnish the facts about the bonds to the Treasurer, but also to the Comptroller. And it would seem that our ventilations of the omissions by the Governor are at least pushing him up.

It was for the very purpose of being able to answer the inquiries of the Comptroller General, and thus comply with the law, that the Treasurer applied to the State's financial agent, Clews & Co., of New York. The refusal to answer these inquiries by Bullock and Clews throws suspicion on the transaction, and leads directly to the conjecture that there may be foul play with the State securities for personal ends.

There can be but one way to stop this suspicion, and that is, for the Governor to track the law, and keep the record open.

There are parts of the organ's article that we will not notice. It has its allotted role, as a personal organ, to play. Our own object is simply to protect the people's interest. We have no war to make on Governor Bullock when he does his duty and obeys the law. When he does wrong, we shall attack his course, and shall get our facts from all proper sources.

The Governor seems to have a convenient way of recognizing the Treasurer when it suits his purposes, and ignoring him when it don't.

November the 30th, 1870, he notifies the Treasurer that Clews & Co. will send him some cancelled bonds, and for him to notify the Comptroller and Secretary of State of the fact. And on the 4th of January, 1871, he asks the Treasurer to send Mr. Clews certain information about certain old bonds and coupons. But when it is necessary to explain and record the issue of over four millions of bonds to raise less than a million of dollars, the Governor deigns no official notice to the Treasurer. The public are interested in this matter, and now we advocate the people's interest.

The Comptroller notifies the Treasurer that the Governor has reported to him for registration two million dollars of bonds. The Treasurer has paid Express charges for transmitting Georgia bonds to New York, as follows: October 8, $787 50; October 14, $375; October 17, $678; October 31, $1,659; November 8, $1,125; December 26, $1,350; January 6, $976; January 9, $225; making an aggregate of $7,175 50. The Treasurer has sent bonds of the same amount for less than $500. There is no necessity to ship them as money, and it has never been done before.

The rate paid the Express company was $1 50 a thousand. We thus see that at this rate four millions seven hundred and eighty thousand dollars of bonds have been sent North, and only two millions are registered. A half a million have come back, leaving over four millions still out.

Now, let us look into this question. The people think there is wrong in it. How easy it would be for parties in New York, in collusion with Governor Bullock, to use these large issues of unregistered bonds in borrowing money. Large capital could be thus obtained. And when the thing must stop, the bonds are withdrawn and there is no evidence that they have been used for private speculation. Or they can be destroyed, and there is no evidence obtainable that they ever existed.

The number of ways in which these large secret issues of State securities can be used for private ends is incalculable.

The people will not be put off in this matter. The law must be complied with, and all possibility of private speculation with State bonds must be stopped. The day of reckoning will come. And we tell Governor Bullock to beware. There is an end to patience. The Democratic success in the late election is a note of warning that he should heed.

If there is nothing wrong about the bonds, no one will own it more readily than we will. But there is a prima facie case of wrong now appearing against him. Let him vindicate himself by conforming to the law, and instructing the State's financial agents to give to the people and their functionaries the information they are entitled to.

BEN. HILL.

A Representative of The Constitution Interviews Him.

Mr. Hill States all About that Alleged Radical Letter.

He Defines his Position and Explains his Address.

The following report of Colonel John R. Hart's interview with Mr. Hill will be found to be very interesting. Colonel Hart is an old personal and political friend of Mr. Hill, and a truthful, accurate, brilliant writer:

Reporter—If you ever wrote any letter to a Republican, have you a copy of it. If not, what did the letter say?

Mr. Hill—I never, in my life, wrote a letter to a Republican expressing a political sentiment, that I can recall, save only the three numbers of the "Notes on The Situation," addressed to General Grant, in 1867, and the letters to the Tribune and Times of New York, in 1868. Some time ago, I believe in October or November, I received a polite letter from some gentlemen, dated at Atlanta, asking my opinions, for publication. I understood the gentlemen to be Republicans. I simply replied: "Your letter is received. I entertain no political opinions which I desire, at this time, to give the public, and prefer that even my name should have no public or political mention." This was the whole letter—every word, I believe. It seems, one of the writers (Mr. Holden) had left Atlanta before the reply arrived, and he wrote me from Augusta, reminding me I had not answered. I politely notified him I had given the above answer, and again declined to give any other, or to express, even to him, an old whig friend in days past, a single political opinion. Retained no copies.

Reporter—Did you, in consultation with either of the gentlemen express any political opinion.

Mr. Hill—No; have no recollection that I had spoken to either gentleman in two years. Let me tell you again: I have never, in all my life, written a private letter, or had a private conversation, seeking or looking to any earthly office for myself, or leaning to Radicalism. Hope your question is answered.

Reporter—Fully; and as I believed all the time. But do you know why McGregor should report such charges, and the Constitutionalist and THE CONSTITUTION should give them character?

Mr. Hill—No; do not know McGregor. Never saw him that I remember. Have not seen his affidavits. Hear they are ridiculous. The Constitutionalist, I fear, is a little spiteful because I send all my letters to the Chronicle and Sentinel. Mr. Randall once said to me I had built up the Chronicle and Sentinel; to divide my contributions. I thought I would, but not deeming it a great matter, neglected to do so. It has been a rule of my life never to bring editors under obligations to me. Their kindness has been voluntary, and, in the main, I am indebted to them for manly treatment. It is singular how even the best of them construe portions of my address; still, I will not complain, for I know I am right and consistent, and they will one day admit it.

Reporter—You attended and made a speech at a dinner given by Governor Bullock to Mr. Delano?

Mr. Hill—I did. I had been with Mr. Delano several days, and found him to be a real first-class gentleman, incapable of getting up and swearing to foul charges against decent men upon no better evidence than rumors to suit. The dinner was given to him and at the hotel where I was. All parties were invited, and had agreed to attend. All around we were real Democrats. We all simply honored by our presence an honorable man. I did respond to a toast and sentiment given by this gentleman to Georgia—a State in the Union, (more significant than simpletons imagine) and I did conclude with the sentiment "The United States Courts," which I now expect to administer equal justice to the people of Georgia in the Union. My presence was gentlemanly, my speech was sincere, and my purpose and expectations patriotic.

Reporter—You are reported as saying in that speech, you "did not go to be a Democrat," or words to this effect?

Mr. Hill—Yes, I said so. I never was a Democrat per se. I always said so. I never expect to say otherwise. Since the war the insults and oppressions of the Republicans have driven me to act with the Democratic party, and I shall act with it while those insults and oppressions continue. The charge that I am capable of acting with a party that disfranchises me and enfranchises my slave to govern me, is so ridiculous, that none but fools will believe it, and none but knaves will say it. The real truth is, I am no partisan, and have but little respect for any man who is. The South has paid dearly enough for this blind party worship. It is time for the South to subordinate party to her interest, and not longer subordinate interest to party. This is now her best platform; and, therefore, it is mine.

Reporter—How do you think your address is regarded, as judged by your private correspondence?

Mr. Hill—Most admirably. I could detain you all day, reading the warmest commendations from the best men in the State; some of whom have served and honored her in better days. Most of those who approve, it is true, are old Whigs, yet there are many Democrats in the number. No lawyer has denied the legal proposition.

Reporter—What is the difference between your position now and that of Gov. Brown in 1867?

Mr. Hill—Just the same as that between two sons, one of whom helps assassins to slay his father, and the other, after exposing life and all to prevent the slaughter and fails, simply and sadly recognizes the fact that his father is dead, and decently buries him, and honestly goes to work for the family. Is there no difference between parricide and filial love?

Reporter—Looking to political results, what was the difference between accepting the situation in 1867, and abiding it now?

Mr. Hill—If we had accepted, in 1867, the amendments to the Constitution and other results of reconstruction they would have became laws by our consent, and the odium would have been ours. By refusing to consent, we compelled their authors to make these laws by force and usurpation, and the odium is on them.

Reporter—But all laws, you say, must be obeyed. What, then, is the practical difference between a law made by consent and a law made by usurpation?

Mr. Hill—Ah! right there, my friend, you have struck the very kernel of my address. This difference everybody will see in time, but I prefer to postpone that discussion, for the present. I will, therefore, make two remarks to give your thoughts a direction, and then ask you to excuse me. The obligation of obedience to a law of consent, is a duty embracing the moral sense; the obligation of obedience to a law of usurpation, is a duty measured by necessity. The latter, while it lasts, may be stronger than the former, as physical power may be stronger than the human will or the moral sense.

The last remark is this: If you will read the address carefully, you will find that in determining the meaning and extent of power conferred on the general government by the 14th and 15th amendments—I only state the construction as decided or held by them, in Congress and on the Bench—who made and advocated these amendments.

In time, in style and in logic, the address was right, and will be maintained.

In conclusion, the reporter states that he saw and read the original letter written by Mr. Hill to Mr. Holden. And Mr. Hill's remembrance of it is correct. It contains nothing more nor less than Mr. Hill states in his answer.

Frank Blair.

Frank Blair has been elected to the United States Senate from Missouri. His Broadhead letter is fresh in memory. As an index of his course, we give his speech made in the Democratic caucus after his nomination:

I am a Democrat, and I am also a Liberal. [Cheers.] Upon the platform which was announced in our recent election, and which gave back to Missouri her liberty and her freedom, upon that platform I stand with all men who will stand with me. Now for the first time in many years the people of Missouri have had the choice of their Senators, and when they have had the choice of their own Senators, they have been men respectable and men illustrious for their deeds in the national councils. I may not hope to rival them in their brilliance or in their ability, but I will endeavor, with a heart full of gratitude, to rival the best of them in my devotion to the people of this State and to my country. [Cheers.]

My friends, members of this Assembly, I do not feel like trusting myself to speak further to-night. I will simply say, however, that I hope and believe that a new and brilliant career is open for our State; that we will leave the past undisturbed; that we have not in our hearts the spirit of retaliation for the wrongs that we have suffered in this State, because we have a higher and nobler mission. We have to do with greater objects than grappling with the things that are gone and that cannot be remedied. It is our duty, and the highest and noblest, to go forward to aid our fellow-citizens in the Southern States to the liberties which we have achieved. [Cheers and counter-cheers.] And I know no better way to accomplish that than to call to our side the noble and generous allies who aided us in our recent struggle. [Great cheering.]

Two negroes, named respectively Peter Kelly and Sam Jones, were arraigned yesterday before Judge George M. These two negroes were arraigned on certain affidavits they had made before Commissioner Swayze, against Mr. George C. Napier, which affidavits were found to be false before Judge Logan. Both of the negroes assert earnestly and positively that James Fitzpatrick induced them, by threats and intimidation, to swear to the statements they made against Mr. Napier in the Commissioner's Court. They say "Our Fritz," told them if they did not make such affidavits against Napier, he (Fritz) had the power to send both of them to the penitentiary, and he would do it.—Macon Telegraph and Messenger.

We have received a letter from Jefferson county, giving the particulars of one of the most revolting outrages which has ever disgraced the annals of civilization:

It seems that on Saturday night last a band of disguised men, who are supposed to have been Ku-klux, visited Louisville, the county site of Jefferson county, and demanded the key of the jail from the jailer, Judge Diehl. They went to the jail, opened it, took out nine prisoners, five of whom had been previously tried and convicted, and four of whom had been committed on charges duly made. The prisoners were carried a little distance from the village and whipped severely by the band, and the ears of seven of them were cut off. They then turned these seven loose, together with one whose ears they neglected to cut. The ninth was brought back to the jail, shot twelve times and killed. The one killed had been committed for burning, recently, the gin house of Allen Brown. The name of this negro was Charles Butler, who formerly belonged to Dr. Dixon. One of the other negroes (Jim Stapleton) had both of his ears taken off.

The people of the county—all the true men—are justly indignant at this diabolical conduct. They are determined to ferret out the offenders and bring them to justice.—Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel.

In the Senate Morton offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a select committee of five members to which shall be referred documents and papers recently laid before the Senate by the President, in reference to the condition of the Southern States, such committee to have power to employ a clerk, stenographer, send for persons and papers, administer oaths, investigate matters referred to in the documents and papers aforesaid, and the truth or falsity of crimes and outrages of a political character, alleged to have been committed in the Southern States. A bitter debate is progressing, and will be continued to-morrow. The question turns upon whether the documents shall be referred to a special or the Judiciary Committee.

It is noticed that Senators, whose term of office expires on the 4th of March, are generally bitter. The following is a specimen: Warner hoped that a special committee would be appointed, by whom some remedy would be devised for the safety of life and property, and the wholesale denial of the exercise of the rights of citizenship. He reminded the Senate that, upon the announcement in the Senate, about a year and a half ago, of the death of Mr. Hinds, a member of Congress from Arkansas, who was assassinated because of his political opinions, he (Warner) had asserted that while the Government had shown its power to crush the rebellion, it had yet failed to show its power to protect its citizens. He defended himself from the charge of inconsistency to the flag; he put off the Federal uniform; he had offered to the Southern people the olive branch of peace, and had said so to them upon the rostrum, in Alabama. As a Senator, he was willing and anxious to forgive the past; that as a Federal soldier he had only fought for the Union and future peace of his country. He could say to-day he cherished no animosities on account of the past, but was ready now, as he had been since the war, to rise above such considerations, and in a spirit of Christian statesmanship, do that which would seem best for the welfare of his country and its future; he would vote with the Senator from California (Casserly) for amnesty for the rebellion, but he would be sorry to propose that it should carry with it amnesty for the rebellion and murder of to-day; while for amnesty he was also for the halter for murderers. His answer to the insinuations that the Republicans connived at Southern outrages was, that if the Democratic party depended for ascendency upon the operations of organized bands of Ku-Klux assassins in over-riding the South, it was time the country knew it. He hoped it was not true. He deprecated the drawing of party lines upon a simple proposition to investigate these allegations.

If it was shown that Democratic ascendancy in the South had been secured through popular violence and intimidations, he would expect his Democratic friends to unite in applying a remedy for the evil. To refute the assertion that these were stale charges, he (Warner) read from Democratic newspapers several comments upon the refusal of the Senate to restore the Arlington estate to the widow of General Lee.

As an illustration of the frequent ebullitions of political feeling indicating the lawless condition of society there, he cited an incident within his own experience, being an organized attempt, during a late canvass, to break up a Republican meeting at the town of Eutaw, Alabama, which was attended with most serious consequences. Fifty-four of the participants of the meeting were killed or wounded, though in the interest of the Democracy, and intended by them as a means of carrying the county in which it occurred. There was no greater provocation for it than there was now for him to fire a shot in the Senate chamber. He had been informed that during the melee several shots were fired at himself. After characterizing this as a premeditated attempt to intimidate Republicans from voting, he held that it was impossible to punish the offenders because they were thoroughly organized and had control of the county.

Indications favor a week's debate over the reference of the Southern outrage message. The communications as to outrages in the South, to which Senators alluded to in debate to-day, and which were received from military commanders, ante date four or five years from this time, and few of them of a recent date. Those from Generals Sickles and Meade, when they commanded in the South, are included. It may be stated that the most recent communications are from the Governor of Florida, and Governor Holden, in which the latter mentions, as a fact, which will surprise many who do not know to the contrary, that Andrew Johnson is the head of the Ku-Klux.

GUIDING BALLOONS BY EAGLES.—The novel idea of guiding balloons by eagles has been, it is said, the subject of recent experiments in Paris. The experiments were made from the Jardin des Plantes, with eagles fastened to the car of a balloon, in presence of M. Rampont, Directeur General des Postes, M. Chassinat, Chief of the Service of the Department of the Seine, and M. Mattel, Principal Receveur. A number of vigorous birds were harnessed to the balloon, and these were guided by an aeronaut holding a piece of raw meat, attached to the end of a pole, before (but just out of reach of) the hungry birds. It is said the experiment was entirely successful, the balloon being hauled to the right or left, at the will of the operator, by the voracious feathered team, or made to ascend or descend, according to the inclination at which the pole was held. Extravagant as this may appear, it is perfectly analagous to the drawing of vehicles on land by animals attached to them.

☞ Several young ladies of Williamsport, Pennsylvania, have received the following choice billet doux: "I saw you at shutch last Sunday nite, and I want to form with you an Acquanetans. I am a younge man of good karacter, and a klerk in a stoar, and gits a celery of $500 per annum. pleas address box, post offis." One of the young ladies returned this reply: "To the Young Man with the Bad Spell: The wish to form an acquaintance is not reciprocal, but if you will call at my house about 6 o'clock in the evening, my brother will make you acquainted with some first-class calf-skin. Perhaps you would prefer making the acquaintance of our dog. He will take to you naturally. He always had a taste for calves."

A CARPET-BAG SENATOR, WHO WON'T PAY UP HIS ELECTION MONEY.—The World says: "Senator" Harris, of Louisiana, having been sued by General F. J. Herron for money loaned him to secure his election to the United States Senate, (i. e., to get the votes of the colored members of the Legislature,) pleads to avoid payment, that Herron did not sue him where his domicile is. Of course the suit ventilates all the scandal associated with the original transaction, and of course Harris don't care. The term of this precious carpet-bagger expires next March; and, really, we don't know but an honest Congo successor would be a pleasing change.

THE exercises of this Institution having been suspended for a short period, the Faculty propose during the interim, to give instruction in the city of Macon on their own account. The price of tuition, payable in advance, will be the rate of one hundred dollars per collegiate year. The price of board (for the table) in Macon is from $20 to $25 per month. SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA—Evening Session—January 18, 1871.—Argument of No. 5, Blue Ridge Circuit, was begun.
Pending the opening argument, Court adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M., to-morrow.

DR. W. M. WELLS has recently removed to Atlanta, and hung out his shingle. He comes highly recommended as a physician and Christian gentleman. We extend him a cordial welcome and wish him success.

WE saw a benevolent hearted individual, yesterday, pay ten dollars for a calf rather than see it sold to the butchers to be killed. He should be elected President of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

THE first umbrella that was carried in the streets of London, in 1700, was made of heavy oil silk, the stick inconvenient, and the old fashioned ring and string for securing the same, a very different article to the present portable, light and durable Alpaca, to be found, 1871, at the London Store, Peachtree street. saw

ON Monday Hon. John L. Jones was re-elected Mayor of Covington by a large majority, a high testimonial to his efficiency and popularity. Messrs. J. N. Delaney, A. M. Lansdell, J. Norton, O. H. Tucker, J. T. Corley and W. Thompson were elected Aldermen.

WE are requested to say, by the Sheriff, to all those who do not call at his office on or before the 30th, and settle their State and county tax fi. fas., will see their property advertised without distinction in a very few days thereafter, as he is compelled to settle with the Tax Collector at once.

DR. COWEN, of Jonesboro', yesterday, brought a monstrosity to the city to have it preserved in alcohol. It was an infant whose face bore a striking resemblance to the common screech owl, the brains being massed in the back part of the head. It was a sad spectacle.

THE jewelry emporium of Messrs. Lawshe & Haynes, on Whitehall street, continues to be the center of attraction to all who delight in beholding rare and costly gems, precious stones, solid sterling silverware, elegant gold watches, French clocks and jewelry of all descriptions. It is said by young ladies who are considered au fait on the subject, that Messrs. Lawshe & Haynes have the prettiest and loveliest engagement rings to be found.

Messrs. Lawshe & Haynes are business men, who have established a reputation for superior ware and work throughout the State, and whose energy, tact and attention has resulted in a gratifying and merited success.

DEGIVES.—The Sophie Worrell Burlesque and Comic Opera Troupe will doubtless inaugurate a brilliant season at this place of amusement to-night. Miss Sophie Worrell dresses prettily, is quite bewitching, bears herself charmingly, presents a captivating stage appearance, is graceful in figure, dances well, is all sparkle and animation, and infuses into her characters an exquisite piquancy and expression that leads captive an audience. Mrs. Sheldon, has lost none of her powers of rendition since her connection with Mrs. Oates last year. Her artistic acting and graceful bearing impress all. Miss Ida DeSayer possesses much beauty, is full of life, and is a captivating danseuse. Misses Long and Hall are graceful and pretty actresses, with a fine conception of the characters they assume.

Hernandez is a master of the guitar, is full of fun, ranks high as a pantomimist, and, like Albert Leon, must be seen to be appreciated. Nature has dealt bountifully with Sheldon. He is good looking, graceful in his movements, and is an actor of excellent abilities. Broad humor and fun hang about Wood like a garment. The comic muse smiles approvingly and has left her sign manuel upon him. George Lingard is easy, fluent, and invariably well up in his parts. Sheldon never fails in giving satisfaction to an audience.

The bill for to-night is Offenbach's comic opera, La Grand Duchesse. It will afford real enjoyment. Let us see a crowded house.

"FANCHON."—Concordia Hall was jammed last night with an intelligent and appreciative audience. We observed Judges, lawyers, members of the Legislature, Aldermen, school teachers, and leading citizens generally, in attendance. As far as we could see, it was a sea of beauty. It waved and rippled around and about us. Mrs. Steinheimer gave a fine rendition of Fanchon, throwing into it all her sparkle, freshness and power. Miss Tittlebaum, as Madelon, achieved a gratifying success. Mr. Steinheimer, as Father Barbeaud, was particularly happy. His conception of the character was fine, particularly the impetuosity and love of money.

Mr. Labold, who is a favorite with the people of Atlanta, sustained his distinguished reputation as "Landry Barbeaud," one of the twin brothers. He plays the lover quite naturally.

Mr. Rosenberger, as Didier Barbeaud, the brother of Landry, bears a strong resemblance to Jim Fisk, Jr. He sustained his difficult role with admirable ability.

The music by the Gate City Band was most excellent and was a very acceptable interlude between the acts.

At the close of the performance, when Fanchon and Landry are about to be happily united, and the grandad Mrs. Barbeaud remarks "So may it be to the end of time," some youthful lover in the crowd allowed the pent-up emotions of his heart to find vent in a hearty "amen" which brought down the house.

The curtain dropped and a part of the audience departed homeward, while many remained to take part ...

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14, 1871.

FLOUR—The stronger tone of the New York market stiffened the views of holders here, and the receipts being light, an advance of 10a15 was asked, and in some instances obtained, for small lots. Stock are light, of all kinds, and holders are indifferent about selling, except at full prices, while the demand is chiefly from the local trade, and for only moderate amounts. Low grades are difficult to buy under 4 00a4 25. Superfine is held at 4 75a5 00. Extra sells at 5 40a5 65, the latter figure for choice brands, and holders at the close asked 10c more. Family sold at 5 75a6 00, and fancy brands range up to 6 50. Buckwheat flour is dull at 5 75a6 50, and rye flour at 4 50a4 75.

WHEAT—The receipts are not equal to the current demand, and the market is strong at full rates. The demand is chiefly from local millers, but there is some inquiry from the country. No. 1 winter red sold at 1 20, and No. 2 do. at 1 18 in elevator, and good to prime lots by sample at the same prices. Hill wheat is scarce and in demand at 1 25. Prime State white would bring 1 25, and choice Kentucky 1 35, but there is none of consequence offered.

CORN—The receipts are liberal, but most of them having been sold to arrive, the offerings are not excessive, but the demand is only moderate, and the market is dull. Sales of prime ear were made at 52a53c. on arrival, chiefly at the inside figure. Shelled is offered at 53a54c. for mixed and white, with small sales, but not much wanted at over the prices current for ear.

HAY—There is a steady local demand from feeders, but the receipts are liberal, and the feeling is easier. No. 1 timothy sells at 18 00 a19 00 per ton in bales on arrival; fair to good do. at 16 00a17 00, but common is dull at 14 00a15 00. From store 1 00a2 00 more is obtained.

HOGS—The receipts were only 2,585, but the demand is not very active, owing to the unfavorable weather for packing, and prices are without essential change. The whole range was 6 50a6 90, gross, but there were no extra hogs offered. Good packing stock sold chiefly at 6 65a6 85. A few city-dressed hogs sold at 8 00, net, but they were held 12 1-2c higher for the first good weather.

PROVISIONS—The tone of the market continues strong, and holders ask higher prices for most articles, but the consumptive demand is light and the speculative operations are generally confined to transactions for future delivery, and the buyers are chiefly parties not connected with the trade.

MESS PORK—Can be bought to some extent at 20 00 for city, but for selected brands this price was offered and refused. Country mess sold at 19 70, on arrival at the depots. Rumps are held at 15 00a15 50, with little demand. There is a good demand for city mess for future delivery at 20 00, but 50c. more is asked.

GREEN MEATS—The weather is too warm for curing meats, and prices are nominal, but there is a good demand for the first good weather for shoulders at 6½c., and sides at 8½c., and hams at 11½a12c.

BULK MEATS—Are less freely offered and holders ask higher prices. Shoulders are held at 7½c., clear rib sides 10c., and clear sides 10½c., loose, for fully cured, and ½c. more packed. Sales were made of shoulders for March at 8c., for clear rib sides at 10½c., and clear sides at 10½c., all loose. Half cured meats rule ½c. less than those fully cured.

BACON—The demand is a little more active and the market is firmer, with sales of shoulders at 9½c; clear rib sides at 11c, and clear sides at 11½c, all packed. There are few shoulders out of smoke. Sugar-cured hams sell at 15½a16c, canvassed and packed.

LARD—The demand is more active and the market is stronger. City kettle rendered is held at 12c, with small sales, but choice country sold at 11½c. Prime steam is difficult to buy under 11½c, but one or two lots sold at 11½c. Head and gut is held at 11½c, with buyers at ½c less.

SEED—Clover is in good demand and steady at 10½a11 per pound from store, but round lots are difficult to sell on arrival at over 10½. Timothy is jobbing at 5 75a6 00 per bushel. Flaxseed is in good demand at 1 75a1 85 per bushel.

WHISKY—The demand is active and the market strong, but with more liberal offerings prices remain steady; 750 barrels sold at 86c ...

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 14, 1871.

HOGS—The market during the past week has been quiet, with light receipts. There has been but little competition, most of the packers having retired from the market and closed their houses. Drovers, however, have been able to maintain prices pretty well. On Monday there were but few offering at the stock yards, but prices ranged from 6 30 to 6 80, gross. On Tuesday the market was a shade weaker, and small sales were made at 6 00a6 65 for medium to heavy averages. On Wednesday the range was from 6 00 to 6 75, with limited transactions. On Thursday prices were quotably unchanged, with a better demand. On Friday the market ruled firm at 6 50a6 75 for good to heavy averages, though drovers were asking 7 00 for their best hogs, and to-day the market ruled quiet at 6 00a6 75 per 100 pounds, gross. The killing for the week foots up about 2,000 head, and the total for the season to date is 240,452 head.

Total killing 240,452. Two houses are still in operation, and it is possible that the season's business will reach 245,000 head. Receipts at Cincinnati and Chicago are light and prices strong.

PROVISIONS—The market has exhibited a degree of animation during the week, with an active consumptive and speculative demand, and dealers have been able to advance prices; the market closing firm, with an upward tendency.

MESS PORK—The market rules firm, and holders are asking 21 00 in round lots. We quote at 21 00a21 50. Rump pork is steady at 15 00a16 00 per bbl.

BULK MEATS—There was a good consumptive demand to-day, as also a large speculative inquiry. Sales include 32 casks shoulders at 8c; 36 casks clear rib sides at 10 1-2a10 3-4c; 16 casks clear sides 11a11 1-4c, all packed.

BACON—Is in active demand, and sales to-day include 62 casks clear rib sides at 11 1-2a11 3-4c; 25 do clear sides at 12a12 1-2c; shoulders are held at 9 1-2a9 3-4c, packed. Hams are steady at 15a17c for plain and sugar-cured.

LARD—Is active and advancing. We note sales 500 tierces prime leaf on private terms; 500 tierces head and gut lard at 11 1-2c. We quote prime leaf in tierce at 12 1-2c, and keg at 13 1-2a14 1-4c.

HAY—Is in light demand, but prices, owing to limited stocks, have been fully maintained. We continue to quote the various grades of timothy at 16 50a21 00 per ton for prime to strictly choice from store and delivered on cars.

There appears to be a scarcity of leaf tobacco in Virginia. The Petersburg Courier has been informed by tobacconists that some of them have been compelled to close their factories for the want of raw material.

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND.—To relieve the aching heart of woman and bring joy where sorrow reigned supreme, is a mission before which the smiles of kings dwindle into utter insignificance. To do this is the peculiar province of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator; which, from the numberless cures it has accomplished, is appropriately styled Woman's Best Friend. The distressing complaint known as "whites," and the various irregularities of the womb, to which woman is subject, disappear like magic before a single bottle of this wonderful compound. It is prepared by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga., and sold at $1.50 per bottle by respectable druggists everywhere. Physicians prescribe it. Its action is prompt, sure and decisive.

UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENTS.—Established facts are silent arguments which neither pen nor tongue can shake, and it is upon established facts that the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a health preserving elixir, and a wholesome and powerful remedy is based. When witnesses come forward in crowds, year after year, and reiterate the same statements in relation to the beneficial effects of a medicine upon themselves, disbelief in its efficacy is literally impossible. The credentials of this unequalled tonic and alterative, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, include individuals of every class, and residents of every clime and refer to the most prevalent among the complaints which afflict and harass the human family. Either a multitude of people, strangers to each other, have annually been seized with an insane and motiveless desire to deceive the public, or Hostetter's Bitters, for no less than a fifth of a century, have been affording such relief to sufferers from indigestion, fever and ague, biliousness, general debility, and nervous disorders, as no other preparation has ever imparted. To-day, while the eyes of the reader are upon these lines, tens of thousands of persons of both sexes are relying upon the Bitters as a sure defense against the ailments which the present season engenders, and their confidence is not misplaced. The local potions which interested dealers sometimes endeavor to foist upon the sick in its stead, are everywhere meeting the fate that is due to fraud and imposture, while the demand for the great vegetable specific is constantly increasing.

Patent Medicines.

READ!

IT is well known to Doctors and to Ladies, that Women are subject to numerous diseases peculiar to their sex—such as Suppression of the Menses, Whites, Painful Monthly "Periods," Rheumatism of the Back and Womb, Irregular Menstruation, Hemorrhage, or Excessive "Flows," and Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb.

These diseases have seldom been treated successfully. The profession has sought diligently for some remedy that would enable them to treat these diseases with success.

At last that remedy has been discovered by one of the most skillful physicians in the State of Georgia. That remedy is

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.

It is purely vegetable, and is put up in Atlanta, Ga., by Bradfield & Co.
It will purify the blood and strengthen the system, relieve irritation of the kidneys, and is a perfect specific for all the above diseases, as a certain cure as quinine is in Chills and Fevers.
For a history of diseases and certificates of its wonderful cures, the reader is referred to the wrapper around each bottle.
Every bottle warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded.

LAGRANGE, GA., March 23, 1870.
BRADFIELD & CO., Atlanta, Georgia:
DEAR SIRS: I take pleasure in stating that I have used, for the last twenty years, the medicine you are putting up, known as Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR, and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the diseases for which it is recommended. I have been familiar with the prescription, both as practioner of medicine and in domestic practice and can honestly say that I consider it a boon to suffering females, and can but hope every lady in the land, who may be suffering in any way peculiar to their sex, may be able to procure a bottle, that their sufferings may not only be relieved, but that they may be restored to health and strength.
With my kindest regards, I am, respectfully,
W. B. FERRELL, M. D.

We, the undersigned, Druggists, take pleasure in commending to the trade Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR—believing it to be a good and reliable remedy for the diseases for which he recommends it.

Dr. Prophitt's Celebrated Liver Medicine.

It is purely vegetable, and will act udon the Liver and Kidneys as promptly as Calomel and Buchu, without any danger of salivation or destruction of the bones.
Parties taking this medicine need not fear getting wet, or any other reasonable exposure.

Symptoms of Liver Disease:

Headache, Dull Feeling or the Blues, Sour Stomach, Sick or Nervous Headache, Heartburn, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, Bad or Bitter Taste in the Mouth, the skin has a thick, rough feeling, and is darker than usual, Costiveness, Melancholy Feelings, Cramps, Cold Feet, Colic, Dysentery or Diarrhea, Chills and Fever, and Piles. In fact, where the Liver is out of order, you are liable to every disease that is not contagious.
Prophitt's Liver Medicine, if taken properly, will prevent and cure any disease resulting from a deranged Liver.
It will regulate its functions and thus cure all diseases caused by the failure of its healthy action.
It has been used for a great number of years, and has given universal satisfaction.
There is no brother or son claiming to have the original receipt. It is put up in both Powder and Fluid form.

FAILBURN, GA., September 4, 1868.
DR. O. S. PROPHITT:
SIR: My wife has been an invalid for fifteen years. Doctors all agree she had "Liver Disease." In connection with their practice she used various noted remedies, none of which seemed to do any good. Sometime ago I procured a bottle of "Liver Medicine," of your agent here, C. A. Harvey, which being given according to directions, has effected a complete cure. GEO. L. THOMPSON.

ATLANTA, GA., July 18, 1870.
MESSRS. BRADFELD & CO.:
GENTLEMEN—Last year, during my travels in Alabama and Southwest Georgia, I contracted chills and fever, and my general health became very bad. I tried various remedies, and among others Shallenberger's Pills—all to no purpose. I was troubled with intense pain in the small of my back, and for months I did not have a moment's rest. I had well nigh despaired of recovering when a friend recommended me to take Dr. Prophitt's Liver Medicine. I did so, and one bottle has cured me, and to-day I feel like another man. I consider it one of the best medicines for general use now put up, and, without any reservation, recommend it to the afflicted.
I am, gentlemen, very respectfully, yours, etc.,
O. M. HARRALSON.

DR. PROPHITT'S Dysentery Cordial

Is one of the most valuable compounds now put up for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Infatum, or Cholera Morbus.
This medicine has been in use for years, and gives universal satisfaction.
The most delicate child may take it with impunity.

COVINGTON, GA., November 9, 1867.
DR. PROPHITT:
Having a severe attack of Dysentery during the past summer, I was induced to use your Dysentery Cordial, and derived therefrom immediate and permanent relief. It gives me pleasure to recommend this remedy to all who may be so attacked, believing that, should the directions be followed, relief would surely be obtained.
Yours, etc., G. S. PORTER.

CUSSETA, TEXAS, 1869.
DR. PROPHITT:
DEAR SIR—Your Liver Medicine and Pain Kill It is a complete success. J. L. WHITTLE.

PROPHITT'S Pain Kill It!

This is the celebrated medicine that run Perry Davis' Pain Killer out of the market, wherever it was sold. Davis made Prophitt change the name from Pain Killer to Pain Kill It.
For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or pain of any kind, it has no equal.
For Cuts, Bruises, Burns, or old Sores, it is the best thing you can use for a dressing.
For Snake Bites or Stings of Poisonous Insects, it is a perfect antidote.
It is good for Colic, Colds, Coughs or Bowell Complaint. Its name indicates its nature fully. It is truly DEATH to pain.
Manufactured and sold by BRADFIELD & CO., Atlanta, Georgia, and by all Druggists.

NEWTON FACTORY, GA., November, 1867.
DR. PROPHITT:
Last summer my horse sprained his ankle severely, causing the whole leg to swell to about twice the natural size, and rendering him almost helpless; two applications of your Anodyne Pain Kill It thoroughly cured it. JOHN R. DAVIS.

DR. PROPHITT'S Fever and Ague Pills,

The best Antidote for Chills and Fever known. Cures warranted in every case or money refunded. Purely vegetable.

DR. PROPHITT'S Anti-Bilious Pills

Will relieve Headache, Nervousness, Jaundice, and all other derangements of the Liver. Purely vegetable.

AT THE FAIR.

Lord Lovell he called for his milk-white steed,
And he rode away to the fair,
And a maiden he found who was sore in need—
A maiden with golden hair.

So soon as the lady Lord Lovell espied,
She "went for him" then and there;
"Now give of thy gold, Lord Lovell," she cried;
"Thy reward be the orphan's prayer."

"I will give thee gold—not for orphan's prayer,
For of that I take no heed;
But for a curl of thy golden hair,
If it is thine indeed."

"It surely is mine," the damsel said,
"Lord Lovell, I truly swear;"
So it was—but it didn't grow on her head;
The hair-dresser placed it there.

Lord Lovell gave gold fore that lovely curl,
Much more than he could tell;
And the maiden's smile showed her teeth of pearl,
As she said, "I have sold him well."

FINANCIAL.

Importance of the Cotton Crop in the Financial Affairs of the Country.

[From the New York World, January 9.]

The chief events of the week have been the number of heavy failures among reputed millionaires and business firms. The causes of these insolvencies and the present unsettled condition of affairs have been placed before the readers of the World for some time past. In the World of Monday, November 14, the following was published, which gives some of the reasons for existing embarrassments and depression in mercantile circles among those involved in speculations outside of their legitimate business.

The following statement of where $48,000,000 have been wiped out of existence since October, 1868, will give some clue to the cancer of concealed insolvency which is hidden from the public eye, under the sham of expensive living:

	Capital.	Average Price.	Market Value.
Pacific Mail, Oct., 1866	$10,000,000	224¼	$22,450,000
Pacific Mail, Oct., 1870	17,400,000	40	6,960,000
Atlantic Mail, Oct., 1866	4,000,000	110¼	4,420,000
Atlantic Mail, Oct., 1870	5,000,000	30	1,200,000
Panama Railroad, Oct., 1866	7,000,000	267½	18,725,000
Panama Railroad, Oct., 1870	7,000,000	82	5,740,000
Quicksilver, Oct., 1866	10,000,000	55	5,500,000
Quicksilver, Oct., 1870	10,000,000	6	600,000
Cumberland Coal, Oct., 1866	5,000,000	60	3,000,000
Cumberland Coal, Oct., 1870	5,000,000	33	1,650,000
Adams' Express, Oct., 1866	10,000,000	100	10,000,000
Adams' Express, Oct., 1870	10,000,000	67	6,700,000
United States, Oct., 1866	6,000,000	100	6,000,000
United States, Oct., 1870	6,000,000	36	2,160,000
Wells, Fargo & Co., Oct., 1866	10,000,000	85	8,500,000
Wells, Fargo & Co., Oct., 1870	15,000,000	37	5,555,000

The following is a table of the decreased value in the market value of the stocks of these eight companies since October, 1866, showing the enormous loss of $48,035,000 on a total at par in 1866, of $62,000,000:

	Decrease in market value.
Pacific Mail, October, 1870	$15,490,000
Atlantic Mail, October, 1870	3,220,000
Panama Railroad, October, 1870	12,985,000
Quicksilver, October, 1870	4,900,000
Cumberland Coal, October, 1870	1,350,000
Adams' Express, October 1870	3,300,000
United States, October, 1870	3,840,000
Wells, Fargo & Co., October, 1870	2,950,000
Total	$48,035,000

Pacific Mail and Panama Railroad stock in 1866, were the favored collaterals of trust companies and banks, and "eminent respectability" recommend them to widows and orphans as an investment.

As a further explanation of the poverty and "hard-up" condition of the speculative community, the following table of the decline in the prices of gold and our leading products in October, 1866, compared with the same month in 1870, will be instructive:

	October, 1866.	Oct., 1870.
Gold	150	111
Chicago spring wheat	$3 45	$1 20
Chicago corn	1 10	86
Cotton—Middling uplands	45	15c. to 16c.

Everything has declined in price, saving only the "watered" stock bubbles, which are still held up by the combinations and cliques of Wall street.

The great cotton interest, which has done so much to sustain our New York money market for the last two years, promises, however, a reverse action this year. A few figures, not strictly accurate, but approximate, will explain this. The currency value of the cotton crop of this year, assuming the same amount of bales as last year, will realize about $140,000,000 less than that of last year. The price of cotton in New York for October, 1870, averaged 16¼ cents against 26¼ for the same month in 1869. Assuming that this price will be realized for the balance of the year, and that the crop will be as large as last year—say 3,154,946 bales—then the amount of currency realized for the same will be the enormous sum of $145,532,000 less than that realized for the cotton crop of last year.

The cotton exported from this country during the last two years was as follows:

	Greenback Dollars.
Cotton exports for the year ending September 1, 1869, 2,448,930 bales, 450 lbs. each, 651,609,000 lbs., averaging 29 3-10 cents	$190,923,430
Year ending September 1, 1870, 2,178,917 bales, 400 lbs. each, 980,512,650 lbs., averaging 24¼ cents	236,693,755
Excess in currency for the year ending September 1, 1870	$ 45,471,316

The following is an estimate of the value of the cotton exported from the United States at the assumed value of Liverpool quotations:

	Gold Dollars.
Average Liverpool price for the year ending September 1, 1869, 11⅝d. Sterling	$140,276,938
For year ending September 1, 1870, 11d. Sterling	199,734,058
Excess in gold dollars. Liverpool valuation, for the year ending September 1, 1870	$ 59,457,110

The enormous amount realized for our cotton crop the last two years has been the main prop of the New York money market. It has enabled the Wall street speculators to command enormous loans to support their stock bubbles. The war in Europe, and less amount to be realized for our cotton crop the current year, with the small amount of Southern indebtedness to the North, will place the New York money market in a very different position this year.

The price of cotton in Liverpool, October, 1870, averaged 9d. sterling, against 12d. sterling in the same month of 1869. Assuming that the export of cotton will be as heavy as last year, 2,178,917 bales—then the difference in price will cause the enormous loss in the sum realized for our foreign exports of $54,500,000 in gold, compared with last year. Europe gains and the United States lose $54,500,000 in gold, on the cotton exported this year.

Our bankers and business men will do well to consider attentively this cotton crop question. If it shall realized about $54,500,000 less in gold than last year in the amount exported, and about $145,000,000 in currency less for the whole crop, then financial operations ought to be reduced in proportion thereto, or financial embarrassments and bankruptcies are inevitable.

Since the preceding was written, cotton has declined 1⅛d. sterling per pound, making a further reduction in the market value of our cotton crop. The decreased value of the cotton exports this year, compared with last, is likely to be from $60,000,000 to $70,000,000 less than that of last year.

In addition to this decrease of about $70,000,000 in the value of our cotton exports, there is also the falling off in the exports of government bonds and other securities. For the year ending July 1, 1870, our shipments of securities to Europe, are estimated in round numbers at $100,000,000. The imports continue as large as those of last year. What then, are we to export to Europe to supply the deficiency in the export of cotton and bonds?

Europe holds about fifteen hundred millions of our securities, with an annual interest payable thereon of about $90,000,000 in gold.

This annual drain of $90,000,000 in gold to Europe, and the deficiency of about $70,000,000 in the value of cotton export, and $100,000,000 in bond exports, in the face of continued heavy exports, are not items favorable to a reduction of the premium on gold, and that rapid progress towards the resumption of specie payments which the Washington officials are promising to the people.

☞ A Pittsburg telegram gives this account of the death of Hon. John Covode: "He was in this city a day or two ago, and returned to Harrisburg last night, together with Mrs. Covode. He sat up a couple of hours talking with Hon. John Cessna, and after 11 o'clock returned to his room in the United States Hotel, intending to take the morning train for Washington city. About 4 o'clock he awoke and complained about the heart. A physician was sent for, who told him he would be better in an hour. He exclaimed: 'Have I to wait so long?' Just as the doctor was leaving the room he said: 'My God! I am dying!' His eyes became fixed, and in a moment he was dead."

SLOW CHILDREN.—The child is "slow," is it? It can't learn its multiplication table; spelling seems impossible to it, with any amount of teaching; and you get discouraged, and set it down as a foreordained dunce. Wait a bit. Every parent knows, at the same time, too much and too little of his own child. It is more than likely you will be prouder of that child's attainments than any other child's in your family. Be patient, as is the gardener when he has sown the seed. Time and sunshine! Give plentiful of both to these human plants. The fruit and the blossom that come prematurely lie oftenest useless upon the ground.

Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

Ague and Fever,

—OR—

Chills and Fever.

THE Proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller does for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my Almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter, from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of Bull's Worm Destroyer:

VALLANOW, Walker County, Ga., June 29, 1869.

DR. JOHN BULL:

DEAR SIR—I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to conserve that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,

JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

BULL'S

SARSAPARILLA.

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAPTAIN'S FAITH.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACKS, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige,

CAPT. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhoea and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible but I believe he will recover.

Respectfully,
JENNIE JOHNSON.

Testimony of Medical Men.

STONEY POINT, WHITE CO., ARK., May 23, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver effected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed, the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickett & Neely.

LAGRANGE, GA., December 3, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER, West Point, Ga.—Gentlemen: Having witnessed almost daily, for the last fifteen years, the great efficacy of the preparation you are now putting up, known as "Abbett's Medicine," it affords me pleasure to state that I know of no combination or preparation equal to the treatment of Liver Diseases of whatever character, and cordially recommend it to all who are suffering from derangement of the Liver, and especially the Dyspeptic.

I am, very respectfully,
T. S. BRADFIELD, Druggist.

WEST POINT, GA., October 15, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER—Gentlemen: I can honestly and confidently recommend L. B. Abbett's Liver or Dyspeptic Medicine, as prepared by you, to the favorable notice of the suffering public. Having used this Medicine myself in my family for twenty years, I can highly recommend it for removing pain or flatulency from the stomach, caused by indigestion. It also has a happy effect in removing constipation of the bowels. I believe it to be the best universal remedy the world has yet discovered for the above named diseases. With my best wishes to you in introducing this valuable Medicine to the public, I remain

Yours truly, A. K. KENDRICK.

ROSADALIS.

The Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro, Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

Laboratory, 61 Exchange Place, Baltimore.

UNIVERSAL

Life Insurance Company,

—NEW YORK—

The Original Joint-Stock Life Insurance Company of the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the Insurance of first-class healthy lives.

The Distinctive Feature

Of the Stock system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the Mutual, is a low rate of premiums for a stated sum insured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium with a promised dividend, which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

Illustration.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the UNIVERSAL, the sum of $[illegible], payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him [illegible] $8,474—a difference immediately secured, in favor of the UNIVERSAL, $3,277.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent. greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty-three and one-third per cent. payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent. payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan the full value in insurance of the premium paid is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

The Premiums

Charged by the Universal are as low as the assured experience of insured life in this country will justify, and on ordinary Life and Ten-Year Non-forfeiture policies are nearly one-third lower than those charged by a majority of Mutual Companies.

Special attention is asked to our "Return Premium Plan," by which the amount of the policy is secured simply by the temporary deposit of the annual premiums, which are returned in full, together with the amount assured, to the holder of the policy when it shall become a claim upon the Company. Also to the

"REDUCTION PREMIUM PLAN,"

By which a reduction of one-third is made in the premium after the first annual payment, being, in fact, equivalent to a dividend of 33 1-3 per cent. A clause is inserted in the policies issued by the "Universal," in which these results are distinctly specified and guaranteed.
